THIS LESSON IS ABOUT:

THE TYPES OF WORK

Welcome!

- ✓ How have you been?
- ✓ Introduce yourself.
- ✓ Share something interesting about yourself with the class.

5 Minutes of Pronunciation

Let's practice the following tongue twister about work. Focus on pronunciation of sounds first, then on speed, and finally on both.

Chuck's job was to chop chips.
Chuck was a chip chopper.
In fact, he was the top chip chopper.
The chips were shipped to the chip-chopping shop And
Chuck chopped the chips.
The chip-chopping shop also had a chip checker.
He checked the chips
Chuck chopped.

Vocabulary: Types of Work

Look at the types of work on the right and answer the questions.

- Which industry does a chef, cook, and waiter work in?
 - Which industry does a model and fashion designer work in?
 - What types of jobs are there in the entertainment industry?
 - What types of jobs are there in retail?
- education
 - the fashion industry
 - sales and marketing
 - retail
 - the tourist industry
 - accounting
 - the entertainment industry
 - the food industry

Read an interview with someone about his job. What job is it? What does he like about it?

I: Can you tell us a little about what you do and what you like about your job?

M: Yes. I'm a marine biologist. I work mainly in the ocean and also in the lab. One good thing about my job is that I like working outside.

I: I see.

M: In fact, I can't stand sitting at a desk all day. Um. What else?

I: Maybe you get to travel....

M: I travel a lot, and I absolutely love traveling, particularly in South America and Australia.

I: And what about your colleagues, people you work with?

M: actually, most of my time is spent alone, which kind of suits me. I don't like working on a team. I prefer working alone.

I: Really? And what about the type of work?

M: It's interesting- there's a lot of lab work, but it's a very practical job. You're working with animals and plant life the whole time. And y'know, I don't mind getting my hands dirty. That's important. Also, I'm interested in learning new things- and you do learn all the time in this job. You're always discovering new things.

I: That's great. It sounds wonderful.

M: I couldn't do an office job because I hate working under pressure. And I'm not very interested working for a company. I just want to be my own boss.

I: So, you found the right job for you.

M: I found the right job for me, yes.

Test your memory!

Complete the sentences.

1. I like ____ outside.
2. I can't stand ____ at a desk all day.
3. I absolutely love ____.
4. I don't like ____ on a team. I prefer working alone.
5. I don't mind ____ my hands dirty.
6. I like ____ new things.
7. I hate ____ under pressure.
8. I don't really like ____ for a company. I want to be my own boss.

- ✓ Which phrases in bold are very positive, positive, negative, or very negative? Which are not positive or negative?
- ✓ Which of the statements above are true for you?
- ✓ Find out three things that your partner loves / likes / hates and write sentences about them.

Responding and Asking more Questions

When you're on a conversation it is important to respond or ask more questions in order to keep the conversation flowing.

Fill in the blanks with appropriate words.

M: One good thing about my job is that I like working outside.

I: I ____.

M: I travel a lot, and I absolutely love traveling, particularly in South America and Australia.

I: And what ____ your colleagues, people you work with?

M: I don't like working on a team. I prefer working alone.

I: ____? And what about the type of work?

M: You're always discovering new things.

I: That's great. It ____ wonderful.

Intonation: Sounding Interested

Listen and repeat the phrases in bold. Notice the intonation, copy the intonation to sound interested.

Work in pairs and complete the sentences.

1. I got a new job as a _____.
2. Yesterday I bought a new _____.
3. I'm going on vacation to _____.
4. Last night I saw _____.
5. I've always wanted to _____.
6. Yesterday I learned how to _____.
7. I watched a great movie about _____.
8. This morning I met _____.

Role Play

Student A: read a sentence. Student B: respond and ask a follow-up question.

Example:

A: I just got a new job as a ski instructor!

B: Really? When do you start?

Summing Up

What is the perfect job for you? Think about your job now or a job you'd like to have in the future. Make notes on the:

- Industry (medical, entertainment, tourism...)
- Type of work (creative, manual IT-based...)
- Skills (networking, writing, planning...)
- Hours (9-5, flexible...)
- Location (outside, in an office, traveling...)
- People (work alone, on a team, in a large corporation...)

Today we learned...

- ✓ To express likes and dislikes.
- ✓ To apply an important feature of pronunciation: intonation to sound interested.
- ✓ About the different types of work.
