THIS LESSON IS ABOUT:

- USING THE SIMPLE PAST AND PRESENT PERFECT

Hello!

- How have you been?
- Introduce yourself
 - Name
 - Occupation
- Why did you choose this lesson?
- How are you progressing through the course?

Act out the next dialogue.

Mark: Hi Alice, it's good to see you again. I haven't seen you for ages. How have you been?

Alice: Not too bad.

Mark: I see you've changed.

Alice: Yes, I've been on vacation. I see you've changed too. Your hair is longer than before.

Mark: Yes, I haven't cut it since last year. How's work?

Alice: Well, I quit my job.

Mark: Really? When did that happen?

Alice: Last month.

Mark: And have you found a new job yet?

Alice: Yes, I've started working as a tour guide.

Mark: That's great. Do you enjoy your work?

Alice: Oh, yes. I've made lots of friends at work. And what about you? Are you still working for the same company?

Mark: Yes, I haven't changed my job. I'm still a graphic designer and still working for the same company. But I've traveled a bit.

Alice: Where have you been?

Mark: Well, I visited Russia last year. It was really interesting. I can speak a little Russian now.

Alice: Wow.

True or False?

1. Alice looks different than before. T
2. Mark's hair is shorter than before. F
3. Alice quit her job last month. F
4. Alice works as a tour guide. T
5. Alice doesn't enjoy her job. F
6. Mark has a different job now. T
7. Mark speaks a little Russian. T

Analyzing the present perfect...

1. Go back to the dialogue and identify the sentences with the present perfect tense.
2. Write in the chat all the verbs in the past participle you see.
3. To form the present perfect we use / + past participle.

Mark: Hi Alice, it's good to see you again. I haven't seen you for ages.
How have you been?

Alice: Not too bad.

Mark: I see you've changed.

Alice: Yes, I've been on vacation. I see you've changed too. Your hair is longer than before.

Alice: Wow.

✓ Is there a rule for past participles?

Analyzing the simple past...

Go back to the dialogue and identify the sentences with the simple past tense. Write in the chat all the verbs in the past you see.

Mark: Hi Alice, it's good to see you again. I haven't seen you for ages. How have you been?

Alice: Not too bad.

Mark: I see you've changed.

Alice: Yes, I've been on vacation. I see you've changed too. Your hair is longer than before.

Mark: Yes, I haven't cut it since last year. How's work?

Alice: Well, I quit my job.

Mark: Really? When did that happen?

Alice: Last month.

Mark: And have you found a new job yet?

did

Alice: Yes, I've started working as a tour guide.

Mark: That's great. Do you enjoy your work?

Alice: Oh, yes. I've made lots of friends at work. And what about you? Are you still working for the same company?

Mark: Yes, I haven't changed my job. I'm still a graphic designer and still working for the same company. But I've traveled a bit.

Alice: Where have you been?

Mark: Well, I visited Russia last year. It was really interesting. I can speak a little Russian now.

Alice: Wow.

✓ How many regular and irregular verbs do you see? How can you differentiate them?

Remember...

We use the present perfect (I've started working as a tour guide) when we talk about a change that happened between a time in the past and now. We don't say when this change happened.

When we talk about a finished action in the past, and if we say when it happened, we use the simple past (I visited Russia last year).

Make two more examples of present perfect and simple past.

1. _____.
2. _____.

Negatives

1. Yesterday, I didn't eat anything for lunch.
2. I _____ any interesting people at the conference yesterday.
3. Paul _____ any presents on his birthday.
4. It's good to see you again. I _____ you for ages!
5. I _____ to the office party last night. I was too tired.
6. I _____ any time to take a lunch break yesterday. I was too busy.
7. Patrick _____ any work yesterday. His boss is not happy about it.
8. I _____ the new manual yet.

I	+	have
We
You	+	have	+	not

✓ What's the rule for the negative form of each tense?

● MAKING CHANGES

Look at the pictures below. Each picture is about a change from past to present. Complete the sentences about each picture using the phrases below. (use the correct personal pronoun) lose weight start a family

put on weight grow old go up stop raining

Since and For

Look at the diagram above
and analyze these sentences:

- I haven't seen you since 2010.
- I haven't seen you for 11 years.

Complete the rules with
"for" or "since".

- We use the present perfect with ____ when we talk about a period of time up to now.
- We use ____ with the present perfect when we talk about a specific point in time (up to now).

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT

Complete the sentences below.

1. I haven't had a vacation ____ last year.
2. I've lived here ____ 10 years.
3. Paul and Jane have been married ____ 20 years.
4. Simon hasn't lived overseas ____ 2001.
5. Mario has been on vacation ____ nearly one month.
6. It hasn't rained ____ ages.
7. Pierre has been at work ____ seven hours.
8. Have you spoken to her ____ yesterday?
9. They haven't cleaned their house ____ last September.

Ever and Never

Read and analyze. Then, make questions with “have you ever...?” like in the example. Finally, make conversations with your classmates using the questions.

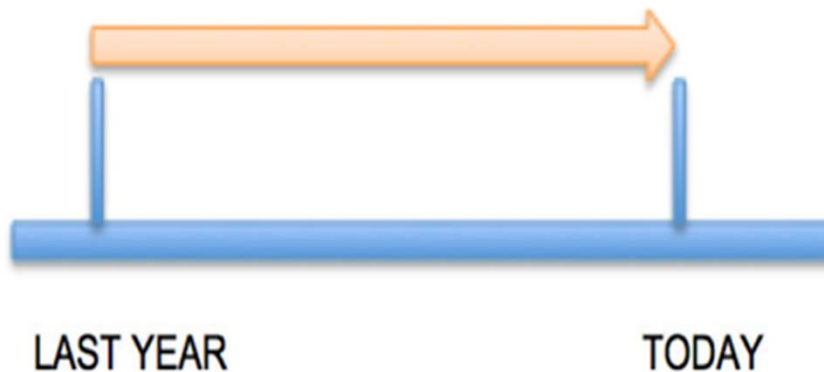

We often use the present perfect with ‘ever’ and ‘never’.

- Have you ever been to Italy?
- Yes, I have. I’ve been there three times. / Yes, I have. I was there last summer. / No, I haven’t. I’ve never been there.

1. you / ever / meet / a famous person – have you ever met a famous person?
2. you / ever / be / to Japan
3. you / ever / create / a website
4. you / ever / be late / for a meeting
5. you / ever / drive / a motorcycle
6. you / ever / lose / something important
7. you / ever / cook / for somebody
8. you / ever / visit / a beautiful city
9. you / ever / write / a book
10. you / ever / wake up / after midday

Present Perfect vs. Simple Past

✓ Think about your life last year and now. Look at the sentences below. If they are true for you say they're true. If they are false, correct them to make them true.

1. I haven't changed my home address.
2. I've bought a car.
3. I haven't been on vacation.
4. I've been to a wedding.
5. I've changed my name.
6. I've made new friends.
7. I've learned another language.
8. I've started a new hobby.
9. I haven't traveled.
10. I've started a business.
11. I've changed my job.
12. My lifestyle has changed.

Today we learned...

- ✓ To reinforce the use of the present perfect.
- ✓ To differentiate the present perfect from the simple past.
